1. What is a Financial Services Guide?

This Financial Services Guide (“FSG”) is an important document to help you understand and decide if you wish to use the financial services we are able to offer you.

It provides you with information about TF Global Markets (Aust) Pty Ltd , ABN: 69 158 361 561 (TF Global, us, our, we) and the services we provide. Its purpose is to educate you, before we provide a financial service, on matters including:

- who we are and how we can be contacted;
- what services and products we are authorised to provide to you;
- how we (and any other relevant parties) are paid; and
- who to contact if you have a complaint.

If you would like further information, please ask us.

Before we issue any particular financial products to you, we will provide you with a Product Disclosure Statement (“PDS”). The PDS contains information about the product to assist you in making an informed decision about that product. It will outline relevant terms, significant risks (where such exist), and fees and charges associated with the product.

We occasionally provide general advice regarding the financial markets or our services. If we provide you with general advice, it may not be appropriate to your needs, financial situation or objectives, and you should consider your circumstances before choosing to proceed with using our products. Additionally, you should obtain and read our Product Disclosure Statement before making a decision. Although we collect personal information about you when you open an account with us (and in some other situations), we do not consider that information if we provide general advice to you.

We have arrangements in place to maintain adequate professional indemnity insurance as required by the Corporations Act 2001. This insurance provides cover for claims made against us and our representatives/employees including claims in relation to the conduct of representatives / employees who no longer work for us but who did so at the time of the relevant conduct.

2. Who will be providing the Financial Services to you?

The Licensee

TF Global is the holder of an Australian Financial Services Licence and is responsible for the financial services that its representatives provide to you. TF Global authorises, and is also responsible for the content and distribution of this FSG.

You can instruct us to provide you with our services by contacting us via our online trading platform. In the event that the online trading platform is unable to receive your instructions, you can instruct us via telephone. Our contact details are at the start of this FSG.

If you are located outside of Australia, either the Licensee or one of our Representatives will provide financial services to you.

3. On whose behalf are we acting when we provide our services to you?

As we are the product issuer, we are acting on our own behalf when we provide the services and not on your behalf.

4. What services and products are we authorised to provide to you?

We are authorised to give you general advice to both retail and wholesale clients in relation to derivatives and foreign exchange contracts. We are also authorised to deal in relation to those same products.

This means that we can give you general advice and help you use our trading platforms. We can help you fill out the forms and undertake and complete trades and other related transactions.

TF Global is also authorised to “make a market” for foreign exchange and derivatives contracts. This allows us to quote market prices to you, including buy and sell prices.

In providing our service, other financial issues may arise, such as how to invest money, or taxation issues. However, we are not authorised to provide advice relating to those financial issues, or any other issues except those explained above. You should seek specific advice from the appropriate professionals if these issues are relevant to you. Also, we are not registered tax agents under the Tax Agent Services Act 2009. If our general advice has tax implications, you should seek advice from a registered tax agent before relying on advice that may impact your tax obligations, entitlements and liabilities.

5. What fees and commissions are payable to TF Global?

There are a number of costs, fees and commissions that you may be required to pay us, in order to use our services:

Type	Description
Spread Cost	Derivative (including foreign exchange derivative) and contracts-for-difference (“CFD”) transactions incur costs relating to the spread, which is the difference between the bid price and offer price. The “bid price” is the price at which we are willing to buy the underlying asset from you and the “offer price” is the price at which we are willing to sell to you. Taking the example of a foreign currency trade, we buy currency on the wholesale market and sell it to you after building in a spread. We also buy currency from clients and sell it to other clients after building in a spread. The price difference of this spread will depend on factors such as the size and value of the transaction and prevailing market rates. This spread is paid by you, but is incorporated into the quoted rates and is not an additional charge or fee payable by you above those quoted rates. We earn a spread whenever you trade with us. Of course, all buying and selling is notional, because TF Global typically does not actually deliver the currency – it offers a platform that lets you trade over currencies only. Sometimes, in order to trade on our platforms, TF Global will convert your money into, say, USD and this is an example of when physical delivery does occur. Example of a spread If we quote 1.3157 (bid) and 1.3159 (offer) for EUR/USD on our online platform, then the spread of every lot of EUR/USD is $(1.3159 - 1.3157) \times 100,000$ (the contract or lot size) = \$20 USD. This spread will be deducted from your account balance at the same time that you click “buy” or “sell” on the platform.

Commission	A commission may be charged to you in addition to the spread on each transaction, depending on which of our trading platforms and account type you select. This is defined in our account types page found on our website http://www.thinkmarkets.com/au/trading-platforms/account-types/ and also inside the client portal found at http://portal.thinkmarkets.com The commission charged will be between .01% and 5% of the executed opening and closing transaction value. If you use our services via a third party such as an introducing broker (see Section 6 below). you may also be charged a commission by us, on their behalf, in one of two ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a fixed amount for each transaction (e.g. USD $2.50 per Side of 100K bought and sold); or • an amount which is added to the existing spread (e.g. An extra 2 basis points [0.02%] to the spread). The precise commission which will be payable by you will depend on a number of factors, including the volume of trading you undertake, the platform you use, and the products and services you acquire from or through us or our Authorised Representatives.
Rollover interest rate	You may earn or pay interest, (rollover interest) by entering and holding a margined foreign exchange contract or CFD contract overnight. The interest rate you earn or pay depends on the type and size of products that you buy or sell, the interest rate differential between the currency pair you have bought/sold and the duration of the rollover period. Rollovers can earn you money if you're long the currency with the higher interest rate and short the currency with the lowest interest rate and the reverse is true if short the higher interest rate currency. Interest rates are calculated on an on-going basis and subject to change due to many macroeconomics factors including but not limited to: the interest rates and monetary policies of central banks and the liquidity in the international banking system. TF Global may adjust interest rates at any time based on the market conditions and its own positions in the market without notice to the client. Your account balance will be automatically credited or debited with overnight interest by the next business day or sooner. Time Zones Rollover interest accrues if you hold your position from or later than 5 pm New York time. At 5pm New York time, any open positions will be subject to rollover interest, and the cost (and its impact on your account balance) will be displayed within one hour, on your online account. Weekends & Holidays As Most International banks around the world do not operate during the weekend the general rule of banks is to apply a set rate of interest during Saturdays and Sundays and some public holidays. This means that the foreign exchange and bullion markets calculate interest over these periods. To balance this, you will be charged triple the swap rate on Wednesday, that is the Wednesday rate is taken and multiplied by three.

Margin Forex

With a margin foreign exchange contract, if the currency you notionally bought is from a country that has a lower interest rate than the currency you sold, you would need to pay the difference, and your account would be deducted accordingly. The reverse also applies, so in some instances you may be paid interest.

Example of Margin Foreign Exchange Rollover Interest

Here's a AUD/USD example. If you choose to buy a margined foreign exchange contract for the AUD/USD currency pair, you are buying Australian dollars and selling US dollars. If the Australian dollar interest rate is 3.25% per annum and the US dollar interest rate is 0.25% per annum, you are buying a currency with higher interest rates, and so you will earn overnight interest at a rate of 3% (the difference between the two rates) divided by 365 if you hold your position overnight.

The opposite transaction has the opposite effect. So, if you sold Australian dollars and bought US dollars and held the position overnight, your account would be deducted by 3% of the contract size, divided by 365.

With CFDs over gold and silver, interest is calculated according to a formula, which is: (Contract's opening price) x (contract size) x (Buy/Sell interest rates) / 365 x (lots) x (days).

Example of Gold or Silver CFD Rollover Interest

Long Trading Position

You wish to buy 2000 CFDs at USD $20.00 and decide to hold the position overnight.

$2000 \times $20.00 = $40,000 \text{ USD}$ - This is the value of your position.

You are then charged interest at the official overnight cash rate +2.0% -

This is then multiplied by your total market exposure, and then divided by 365 days in the year to give your daily overnight rate.

1. $5.50\% + 2.0\% = 7.50\%$
2. $$40,000 \times 7.50\% = \3000 USD
3. $$3000/365 = \8.21 USD
4. $8.21 will be debited from your trading account for every night you hold this position.

	Short trading position You wish to sell 2000 CFDs at USD $20.00 and decide to hold the position overnight. $2000 \times \$20.00 = \$40,000$ - This is the value of your position. You are then credited an amount calculated by using the official overnight cash rate less 2.0% - a typical adjustment for a leveraged product. This is then multiplied by your total market exposure, and then divided by 365 days in the year to determine the daily overnight rate paid to you. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. $5.50\% - 2.0\% = 3.50\%$ 2. $\$40,000 \times 3.50\% = \\1400 USD 3. $\$1400/365 = \\3.84 4. $3.84 will be credited to your trading account for every night you hold this position. *Rates based on the official overnight cash rate. This rate is subject to daily market fluctuations depending on the CFD being traded.
Conversion cost	If you instruct us to place a trade where the base currency is in a foreign currency, you will need to convert your Australian dollars or other currencies into the required foreign currency through a bank and deposit the money into your TF Global trading account. The bank will charge you for this service. Alternatively, we may convert your funds by first quoting you a spot price pursuant to our Terms of Business. If you choose to accept our quoted prices, then the transaction will usually take place immediately, upon receipt of your cleared funds. The new currency will be delivered to your TF Global account. We will be remunerated by the difference between the rate at which we buy and sell to you the currency (also called the "Spread Cost" - see above).
Reimbursement	TF Global may be reimbursed an amount of income from its hedging counterparties, which is based upon the volume of transactions executed with that counterparty. The higher the volume generally relates to a higher reimbursement. The reimbursement will be based on the total number of lots traded with the counter party. See example below Total Number of Lots Traded * 10 AUD = Reimbursement 5,000 Lots Traded * 10 AUD = $50,000 AUD
Interest on client money	TF Global places client moneys into our Segregated Funds Account which is a client trust account. TF Global is entitled to earn any interest (which is calculated daily) on positive balances in the client trust account and does not pay it on to clients.
Credit card payment	TF Global may charge you a fee for accepting a credit card payment from you. This fee will be a percentage of the face value of the payment, as displayed on our website from time to time. It is deducted immediately when the transaction occurs.

Administrative charges	TF Global will charge a fee for the following administrative services when they are requested by you or people authorised to trade on your behalf:
	Hard Copy duplicate statement (posted to you)	AUD $25 per statement
	Audit certificates	AUD $100 per copy
	Bank Wire Outgoing Transfer	$25 AUD
	The above administrative charges will be deducted from your account shortly after the relevant event happens (e.g. if you request a particular document from us). These fees are subject to change.

You may request more details about the way TF Global is remunerated within a reasonable time after receiving this document.

6. How are our people and third parties remunerated?

TF Global directors and employees are remunerated in a number of ways which may include annual salary and bonuses. The type and calculation of any bonuses will depend on a number of factors which may include but not be limited to:

- The position within the company;
- company performance;
- sales volume;
- professionalism and adherence to compliance procedures; and
- team performance.

Sales staff and account managers may also earn bonuses based on a percentage of the total deposit of clients under their management. Where a member of the sales team or an account manager is responsible for a deposit reaching ThinkMarkets from a retail client they will be entitled to receive up to 3.5% of the deposit amount. For example, if you deposit $1,000, the account manager responsible for your account may earn up to $35.

TF Global shareholders will also receive a benefit based on TF Global's ongoing company performance

Our representatives may also receive a commission on trades. This commission is calculated with reference to trade volume and other performance indicators.

When you are referred by a representative or another third party to us we may pay a commission to the third party or representative in any of the following ways:

- a percentage of the commission paid by you to us (see "commission" above) when you trade contracts with us. The percentage may be up to 100% of the commission paid by you;
- up to 80% of the Spread Cost (see above) generated from your trading;
- any additional spread income generated from your transaction. This will be paid if the third party is an "introducing broker" and has requested that its clients be charged a premium to the standard TF Global spread, due to the added service they are providing to their clients. The amount of this additional spread will be either the difference between the spread at which you deal and the spread that TF Global offers, or a flat rate as notified to you by the introducing broker and TF Global (see “Commission” above).

The amount of commission paid to referrers is negotiated on an individual basis and is typically based on a sliding scale, which takes into account:

- The number of clients referred or introduced to TF Global; and
- The number of contracts traded by clients introduced or referred to TF Global.
- (after verifying that our calculations are correct):

“Some third parties offer plugins to our platforms. See heading 11 titled “Significant Risks” in our PDS to understand the risks before allowing any third party plugin. Some providers of these plugins will charge you fees for their services directly. Others will charge fees that we will take directly out of your account and remit to them.

For example, we have agreements with a third party asset managers or signal providers, who charges 1% of your account’s equity balance each month, with a minimum equity balance of AUD 10,000. That means that, if you subscribe to their services, you will be charged a minimum of $1,200 over a 12-month period. If your equity balance increases above AUD 10,000, then the 1% fee will increase accordingly, pro-rata on a daily basis. This is in addition to the fees and commissions that we charge. If you subscribe to the asset managers or signal providers, we would deduct their fee from your account at the beginning of each month and remit the fee to that asset managers or signal providers. These fees would reduce any profit and magnify any loss on your account.”

You may request more details about the way these people or entities are remunerated within a reasonable time after receiving this document.

7. What should you do if you have a complaint?

In the event you have a complaint, you can contact your TF Global representative and discuss your complaint.

If your complaint is not satisfactorily resolved, please contact by telephone or in writing:
